Dear Cindy -

Algebra was just a hassle - Help needs a lot of mental help - especially since I got to T.A. for her. See you next year!
P.S. I wish that Bus!

Look within the hourglass.
Its sand now almost gone.
Look closely at the yesterdays
That hail tomorrow's dawn.

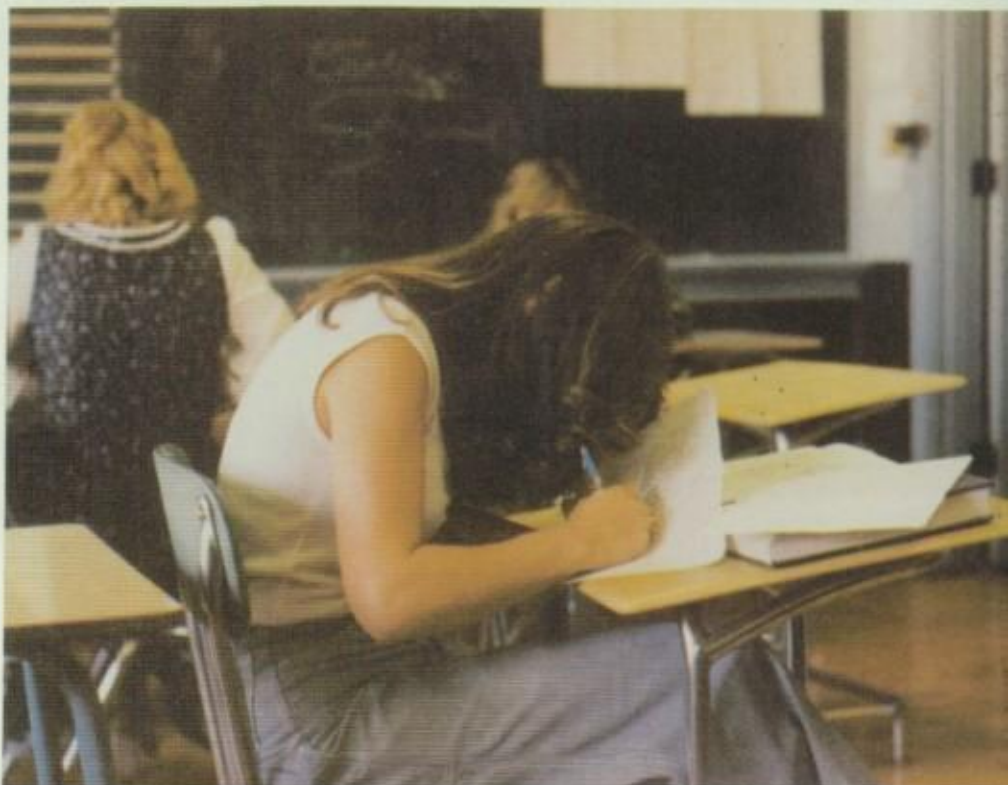

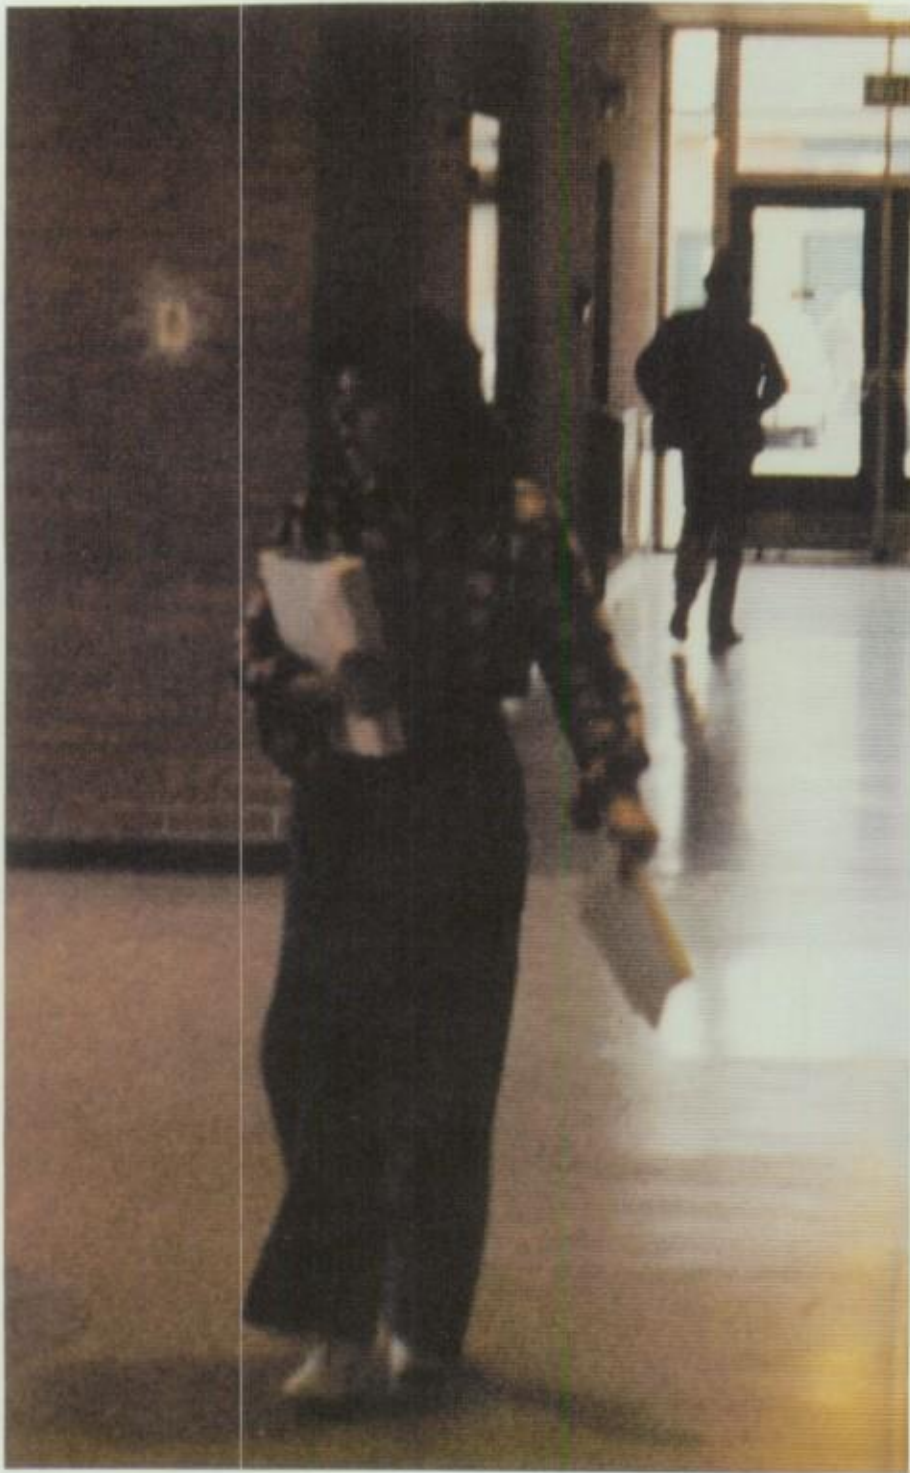

The teddy bear whose seams were ripped
In time was placed away
Upon a shelf that now holds books
With momentos of yesterday.

Kindergarten was here and gone;
To school we did adjust.
Too soon we hit trigonometry,
And homework became a must.

Kindergarten was here and gone;
To school we did adjust.
Too soon we hit trigonometry,
And homework became a must.

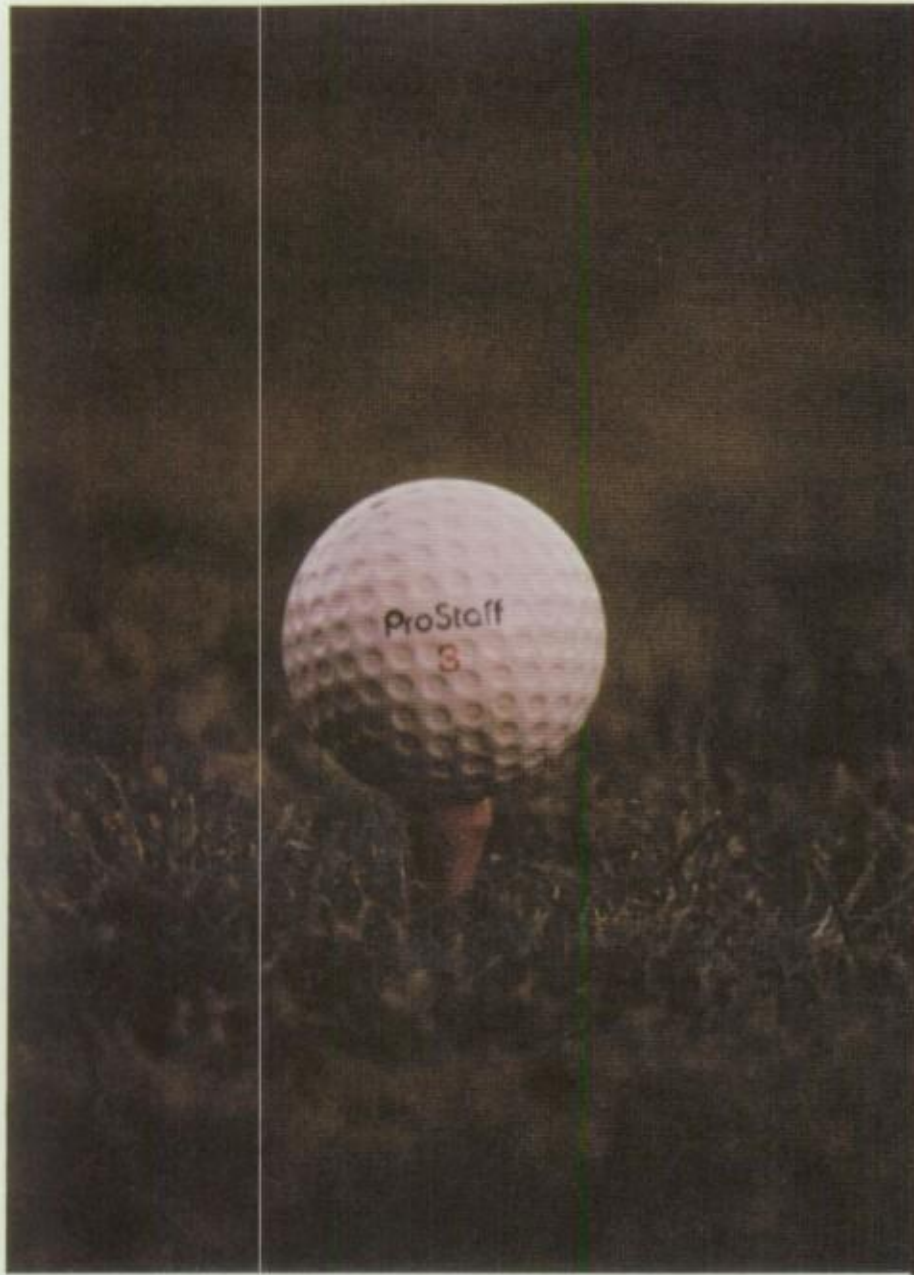

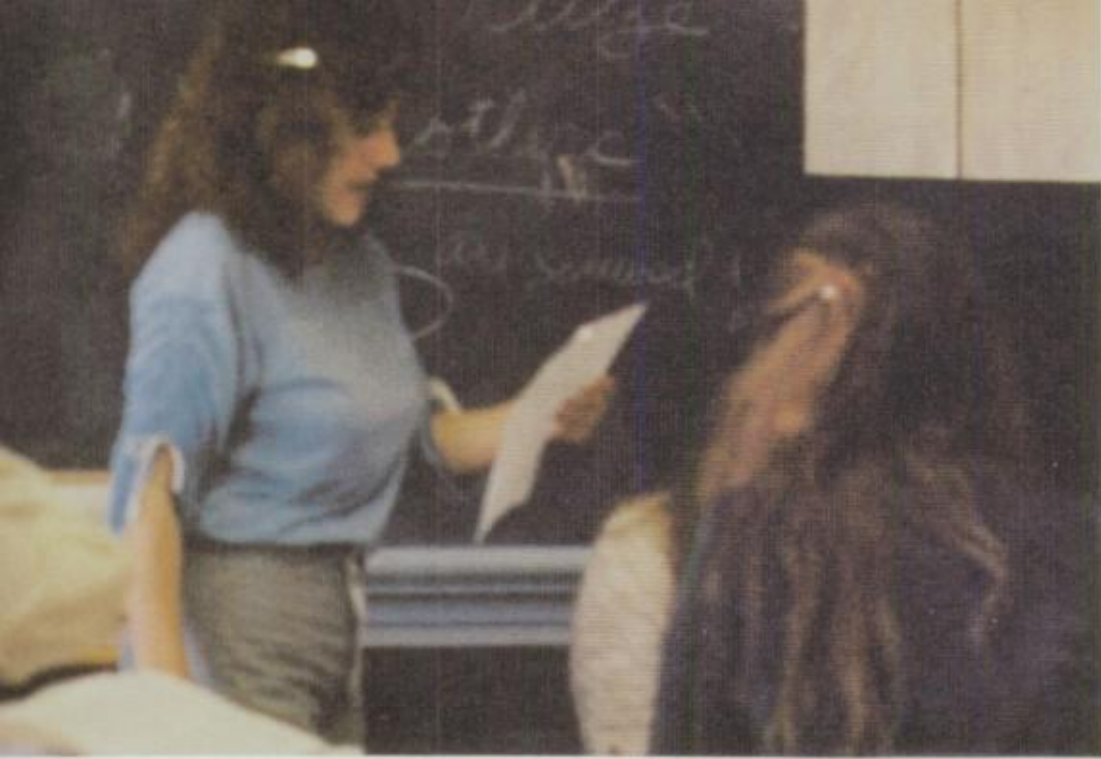

Dear Cindy,
 We haven't really talked a whole lot, but was a lot of fun! I hope I have you in some classes for our Junior year. You a really sweet person and I hope all your wishes are true. I wish ya luck on your dreams & goals.
 Keep seeking those goals and keep reaching them. See ya then! Maybe even during the Summer.

But still we laughed and carried on,
 Friends multiplied to many.
 We had the guts, we had the drive
 To tackle all and any.

Love Ya,

We entered in a trying age,
Confused by each emotion,
Pondered our identities,
Gave freely our devotion.

We laughed, we cried, we learned to change;
We met each challenge bravely.
We hit the books, we took the tests,
Discussed our futures gravely.

Varsity Football

A struggling Spartan football team ended the season with a deceiving 3-6 record, which could easily have been reversed had it not been for three losses by less than six points. However, spectacular victories against division leader Clover Park, traditional rival Puyallup, and Homecoming opponent Decatur brightened the otherwise dim season.

The year began with a pre-season ritual of preparation symbolizing total dedication, supreme sacrifice, and possible insanity—all necessary attributes of committed athletes. Coach Craig Fouhy officiated while Dougall Agan, co-captain, and five of his teammates came to the sacrificial chair and gave up their golden locks for the good of the team. For the rest of the season, Agan, Charlie Jensen, Mike Jasura, Mike Young, Tim Pierce, and Tom Jackson were known as the "Skinheads."

The team started the season with an impressive win over Clover Park. This game saw the Sparts behind 14-0 after three quarters of play, but they came back in the fourth quarter to win 15-14. The next game was just as exciting, but mistakes plagued the team and they lost 13-12 against Federal Way. In the next game against neighboring rival Puyallup, the Sparts overpowered the Vikings for a 24-6 win. The middle of the season was rough and the Sparts lost five in a row before trouncing Decatur 28-0 in the homecoming game.

1. Cache McCaughey listens to the expert advice given by Coach Fouhy during the hard fought Bethel game.
2. Dougall Agan, Spartan running back, strains in his effort to gain a first down.

The Spartan offensive machine, which finished second in the league in rushing, was led by Jeff Ausbun at quarterback and co-captains Dougall Agan and Stacey Miller at running back. The defense was also second in the league against the rush. Leading the mighty Sparts on defense were linebackers Cache McCaughey and Matt Marth, defensive backs Agan and Jerry Herbst, tackle Tom Jackson, and defensive end Miller.

Awards for the season went to Tim Pierce and Tracy Horiup, coach's award; Charlie Jensen, most inspirational; and Dougall Agan and Stacey Miller, team captain. Matt Marth was also honored by being named first team tackle for the all-league team.

Junior Varsity Football

Junior Varsity Football had another tough season. But even though the statistics weren't impressive, the J.V. team compiled the best record of any of the squads with a record of three wins and four losses, including a heart-stopping last minute loss to Rogers at the end of the season.

Coming up with some very impressive plays for the young Sparts were halfback Jerry Herbst and defensive tackle Tracy Hoirup, both of whom started for the varsity team toward the end of the season. Tracy was honored at the fall sports banquet by receiving the coach's award given to the two players who improved the most during the season.

Sophomore Football

It was a season to remember for those who played on the sophomore football team. The inexperienced players that began the season showed great potential. But in the middle of the season, just as they were beginning to pull it all together, they lost quarterback Ed Bass who suffered a broken collarbone and was out for the season. Coach Ed Arima was forced to develop an offensive strategy without a quarterback. The new offense consisted of three running backs—Ron Nelson, Mark Hinman, and Darin Arnold—and two alternating rear flankers—Jim Peters and Tim Mansfield—who ran a shotgun pattern against the defensive rush.

The new offense was in operation by the Puyallup game and the Spartans scored their first touchdown of the season. Things began to look up for the young team, and by the next game against Lakes they were awesome, ending the game in a 6-6 tie. In the very last game the sophomores exploded against the Jefferson Raiders capping the season with an impressive win. Much improvement was made during the season, and for the sophomores who had been playing together since junior high, it was one of their best seasons yet.

Varsity Volleyball

Despite the past few dim seasons, varsity volleyball people still turn out for the challenging sport. Why? Sophomore Betty Hensler and senior Patty Divelbiss said, "The team was not there to please the crowd, but because we all had a personal liking for the sport."

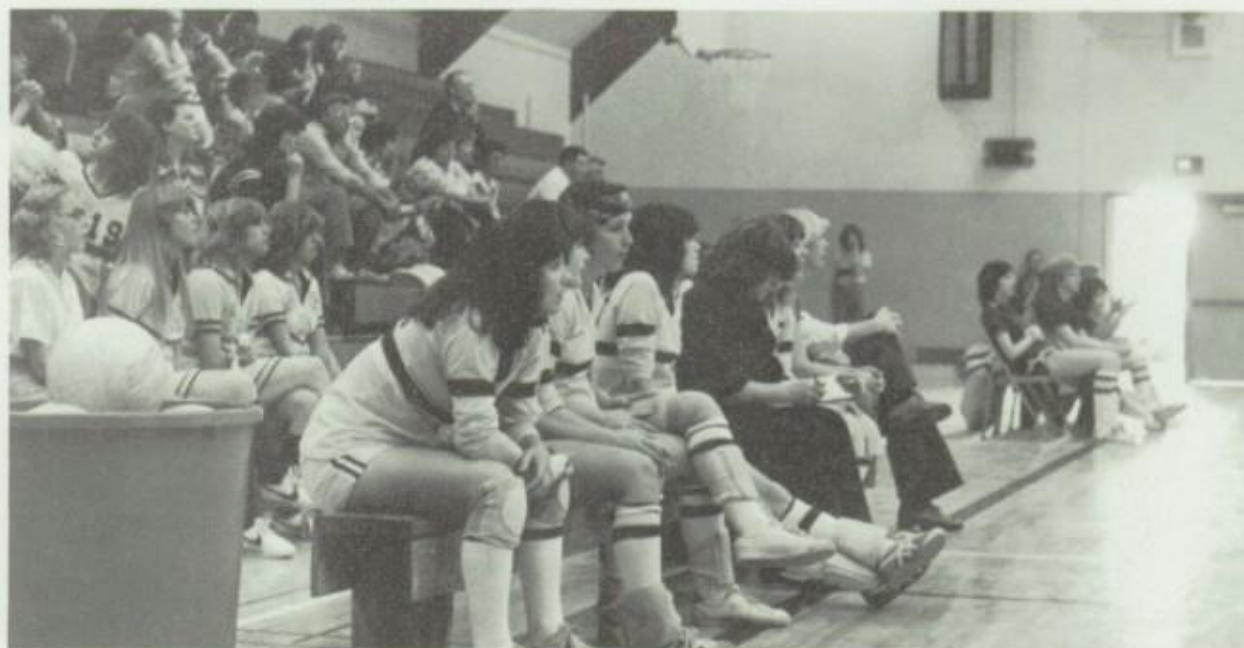

The volleyball team had a tough season with a record of three wins and six losses; however, they played their best and never gave up. The team members said that it was a fun year after all, and they enjoyed the challenge of the matches.

Junior Varsity Volleyball

The junior varsity volleyball team didn't have a terrific winning season, but the turn out was great and each girl's dedication to the team made it a fun year. According to sophomore Dawn Miller, "The constant movement and communication on the court made volleyball a sport full of enthusiasm!"

The team ended the season with a record of two wins and seven losses in league play. Several of the team members said they looked back over the year as a chance to better themselves for the next year.

Cross Country

Why turn out for a sport that consumes endless afternoons of precious autumn days? Why turn out for a sport that requires pain and endurance unimagined by most of us? To runners like Robb Powers, Rob Phelan, and Mark Swanlund, cross country is a warm-up for upcoming swim meets. For Ken Apple, it's the excruciating pleasure of physical pain and the increase of strength which comes with it. To the rest of the runners, the afternoons of participating in this grueling sport leading to improvement of their physical condition is reason enough.

No matter what the reasons, the cross country team had a very good turn out; the result was more wins than last year. Team captain Powers with Phelan and Swanlund paced the boys to a 2-7 season—a definite improvement over last year's winless team. The girls were led by Ingrid Nussle and Dianna Townsend. They finished with a season mark of 3-6, a step above the boys.

Golf (Studs)

The Sumner golf team made excellent progress during the 1980 season. With the help of people like Kevin Brown and Jim Adams, their record was the best they have had in three years. The golfers felt that it was a most successful season. Coach John Blaine was satisfied because the boys practiced hard, put forth their best effort, and were a very cooperative group. "I'd much rather have a group of courteous players on the course," Blaine said, "than players who scored well and were unruly."

Jim Adams and Kevin Brown received awards acknowledging their three years of dedication to the golf team and Steve Vance and Bruce Rhodes were recognized for two years of participation. The team members selected Kevin Brown as their most valuable player and Jim Adams was chosen to hold the position of team captain. These awards signified the end of a successful season.

Varsity Tennis

Skill, experience, dedication, and most of all hard work is what it took to give the girls' tennis team their impressive record of six wins and three losses. Besides the high scores, the team also had fun.

Senior Kim Garl, who played #1 singles, kept everyone entertained during the long bus rides with her jokes and singing. And senior Sheri Burk won't forget the match against Lakes when the bus broke down, "So we all played football in our tennis dresses," she reported.

The team was led by Coach Sharon Lovinger, who was said by Garl to be enthusiastic and a person who made you work.

The only junior Lee Ellis and the single sophomore Karen Ewaskow played #2 and #3 singles and improved a great deal over the season. Playing #1 doubles for the team were seniors Shirley Spear and Sandy Ewaskow. These two kept the team going with their spirit and inspiration.

Every member of the team set personal goals when the season started, but the whole team achieved the most important goal—they had a winning season.

Junior Varsity Tennis

The junior varsity tennis team really got into the swing of things with their great season concluding with twice as many victories as losses.

There were only three sophomores on the team: Tami Bauer, Tammy Whittle, and Kelli McLeod. Their skill and determination kept them going all season long. Bauer and Whittle were the #1 doubles team. The two girls had an interesting philosophy for the season: always be on time to practice.

The first and last time they were late was when Coach Lovinger asked them to run 12 laps around the football field. They learned from their mistake, but the next day McLeod was given the same punishment for a similar crime.

The seniors on the team were Jamie Mancuso and DyAnn Otto. They both played singles. Number one singles player Mancuso had a lot of devotion toward the team. She strove for perfection and showed this by perfect attendance. Otto, too, was a dedicated member and even when sick would still be there rooting the team on.

Girl's Swimming

The 1980 girls' swim team consisted mainly of freshman and sophomores, but a few talented juniors and one senior did their part to make it a successful year. Coach Freeman Glover was a newcomer to the team, and he felt that although the team was young, they did a great job. They ended the season placing ninth out of sixteen teams in the district championships.

Paula Plischke, the only senior, was awarded the traditional captain's award. Plischke, along with junior Lori Lentz, was also recognized for three years of consistent participation on the Spartan swim team. Sophomore Dana Powers was selected by her teammates as the most inspirational swimmer. Power's achievements gave her fellow swimmers the desire to strive for perfection. Sophomore DeAnna Erickson was chosen by Glover as the most improved swimmer.

Only one swimmer, Dana Powers, - me competed at the state level. The skilled sophomore placed third in the 50 yard free and seventh in the 100 yard free. Powers, who has been competing for nine years, prepared for the meet by swimming 7,000 yards (over four miles) every day. Turning out at 5:30 every morning, again after school, and sometimes later in the evening with the Blue Marlins, Powers exhibited the dedication necessary to reach the top. She has already competed at the national level (during her freshman year), placing thirty-third in the nation, and hopes to qualify for the 1984 Olympic team. She will be a great asset to the Sumner team during the next two years.

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Varsity basketball had a very rough season. Finishing with a season record of 1-17, the Spartans struggled through the tough South Puget Sound League.

The season started with three consecutive losses before the Spartans beat visiting Puyallup in overtime before a packed gym, but from that point until the end of the season, the team was in an awful slump. The beginning of each game was always exciting; in fact, the team usually played very well in the first half, but the last two quarters took their toll.

The team was led by some excellent basketball players, but the lack of team height hurt the Spartans. The tallest starter, center Jeff Ausbun, was only 6'3".

There were many good team players. Joe Fox, Mike Monasmith, Matt Peterson, and Steve Hess had fine performances. Junior Matt Mead came on to help after starting the year with the J. V. squad.

JUNIOR VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

The lights were dimmed and the scoreboard turned off. The junior varsity basketball team had played its last game of the season, a disappointing loss to Decatur.

Led by the scoring talents of Junior Jeff Bailey, the J.V.'s played many exciting games, unfortunately losing most of them. Their two overtime losses, one against Bethel and one to Jefferson, were especially disappointing. The team finished with a record of 2 wins and 16 losses.

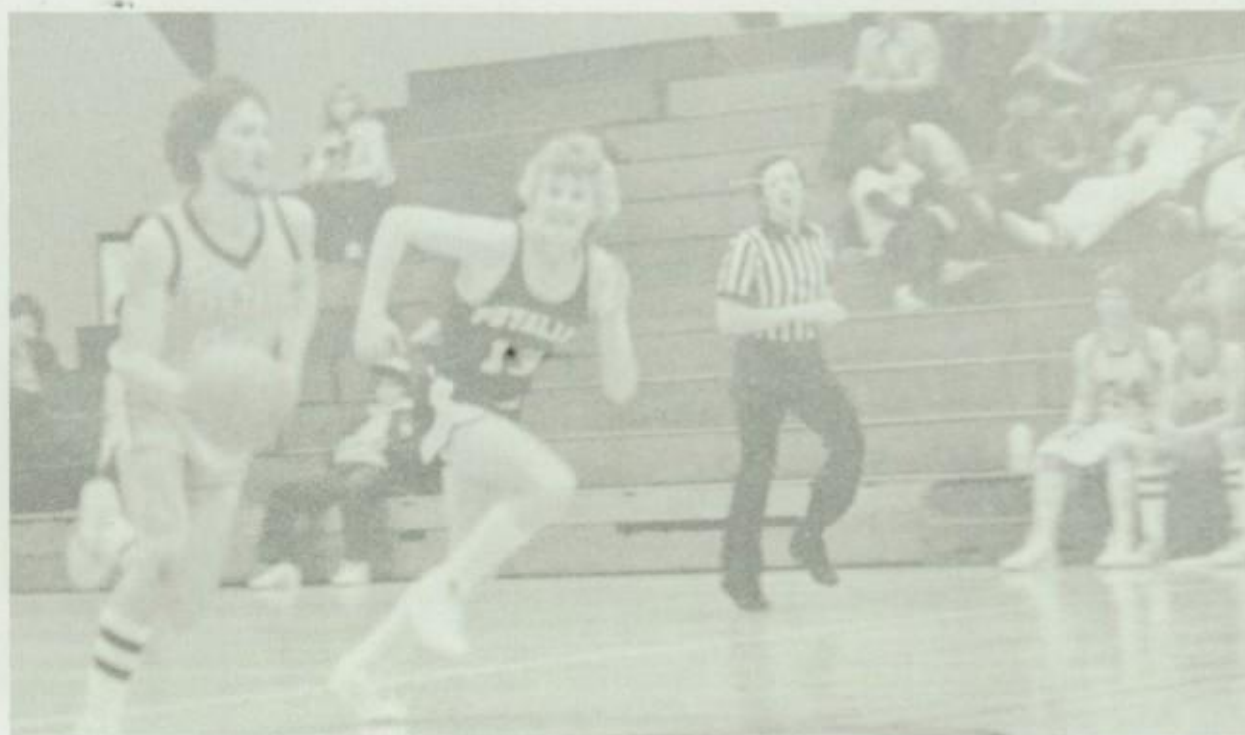

When victory did bounce the Sports' way, it bounced big. Impressive wins over Federal Way and Puyallup showed that the team really could play well, and that with a few good breaks, the season could have turned out to be a big success.

The sophomore basketball team spent the year gaining experience and building their team. The players put out a good effort and had dedication. Unfortunately, the team didn't have the success that they would have like to achieve.

The team was led by Coach Wayne Bell. Coach Bell was pleased with the effort the team put out. According to Coach Bell, all of the players had special talents and that's why they worked well as a team. However, three members of the team really stood out. Bob March, who averaged 12.1 points per game, was exceptionally quick and led the team in steals and scoring. Guard Ron Nelson was the floor leader, averaging 9.3 points per game. Center Ed Bass showed a lot of improvement in his rebounding and scoring. He had excellent outside shots and averaged 9.1 points per game. These three players showed enough hustle and skill to be moved up to junior varsity during the season. Other leading scorers were Mark Johanneck with 9.1 points per game and Bill Meis with 7.3.

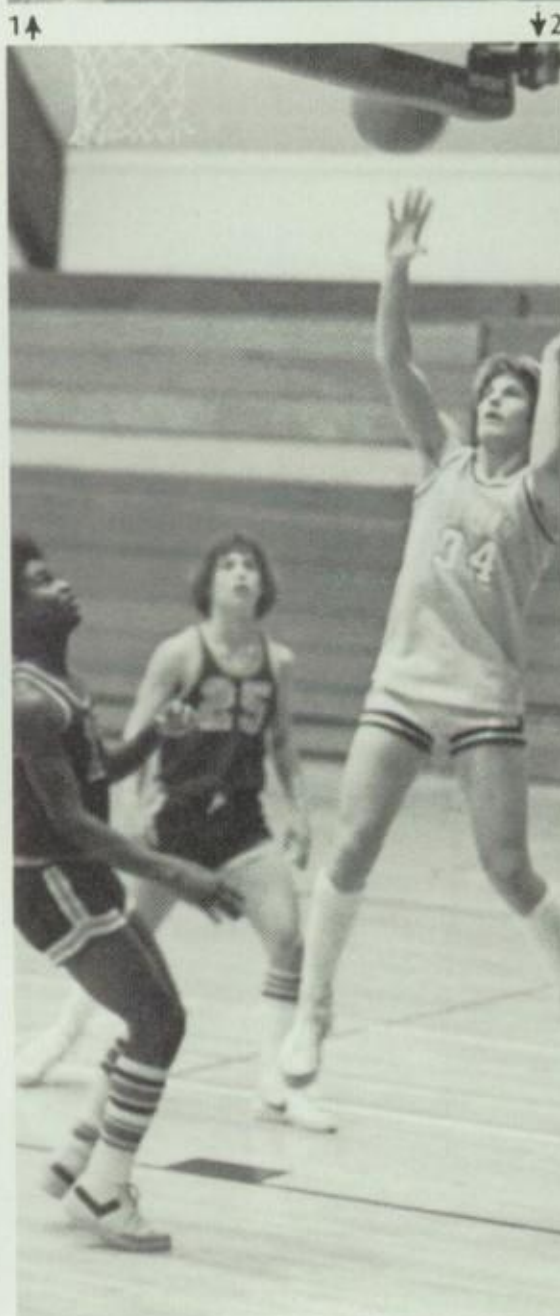

The team had many memorable games. Their first game against Clover Park was their best all-around game, even though they lost 54-55. During the second game with Rogers the team had only eight players. Coming up from behind, the Spartans allowed only two points to be scored against them in the fourth quarter, ending the game only two points down, 40-42.

Perhaps the most memorable incident of the season took place on the way to play a game at Rogers when the bus broke down on an off-ramp, blocking traffic for about 45 minutes. The team finally got to the game when a Rogers' bus stopped and picked them up.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The varsity girls' basketball team had a terrific season. For the first time in several years the team almost made it to the play-offs. The final decision was made at the Jefferson game where the Sumner Spartans were defeated after a hard fought battle placing them in fifth place.

Several girls deserve recognition for their ability to be high scorers. Shannon Blanusa, senior, scored a season total of 189, followed by Chris Frantzen with 168 and Beth Absher with 167. Frantzen and Absher will both be seniors next year.

Three sophomores, Shannon Schonberg, Betty Hensler, and Jackie Westover, were moved up to the varsity team after showing the coach and the team that they had the ability and skill required. Coach Sharon Lovinger feels that the large number of returning players makes next year's season look to be a promising one.

GIRLS' JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The junior varsity girls' basketball team had a tough time putting things together, but under the competent coaching of Bob Dolhanyk, they managed to pull off several good wins.

The team started off on the wrong foot due to conflicts between some of the girls on the team. Sophomore Ginny Weber said, "If the players cannot work together as a team, it is hard to gather enough wins to be a contender." Another blow came when two players were forced to leave the team because of the pressure of school work. The girls who did manage to stay with the team put out a lot of effort and worked very hard. They put together a good team and kept up a good attitude throughout the season, ending with a record of 8 and 10.

Top scorers were Gail Bishop with 116 points, Betty Hensler with 114, and Shannon Schonberg with 98. The top rebounders were Hensler, Bishop, Lanie Conklin, and Laura Connoles.

WRESTLING

The wrestling team had its best season in a few years. The varsity team finished with a record of 5-5, placing fifth in the league standings, and the junior varsity team finished 5-3. The young Spartans were led by sophomore Ron Benson and junior Matt Marth, Benson compiling a league record of 8-1 and Marth finishing with a record of 7-1-1.

The team consisted of only two seniors, Rob Kanany at 158 lbs. and Charlie Jensen at 178 lbs. There were also two sophomores and eight juniors. Due to the experience received by the underclassmen, Coach Ed Arima is looking forward to next year and possibly a league championship.

GYMNASTICS

Have you ever heard the names Diane Engle, Bev Hernstedt, and Paula Plischke? If so, you probably know what they do after school during the winter. These girls were part of the Sumner gymnastics team. They were also the three outstanding performers during the 80-81 season.

All of the girls on the team were extremely dedicated athletes. They worked very hard and were eager to try new things. Coach Barbara Pope commented that the team spirit had been plagued by many minor injuries; however, the girls were thankful that there were no serious ones.

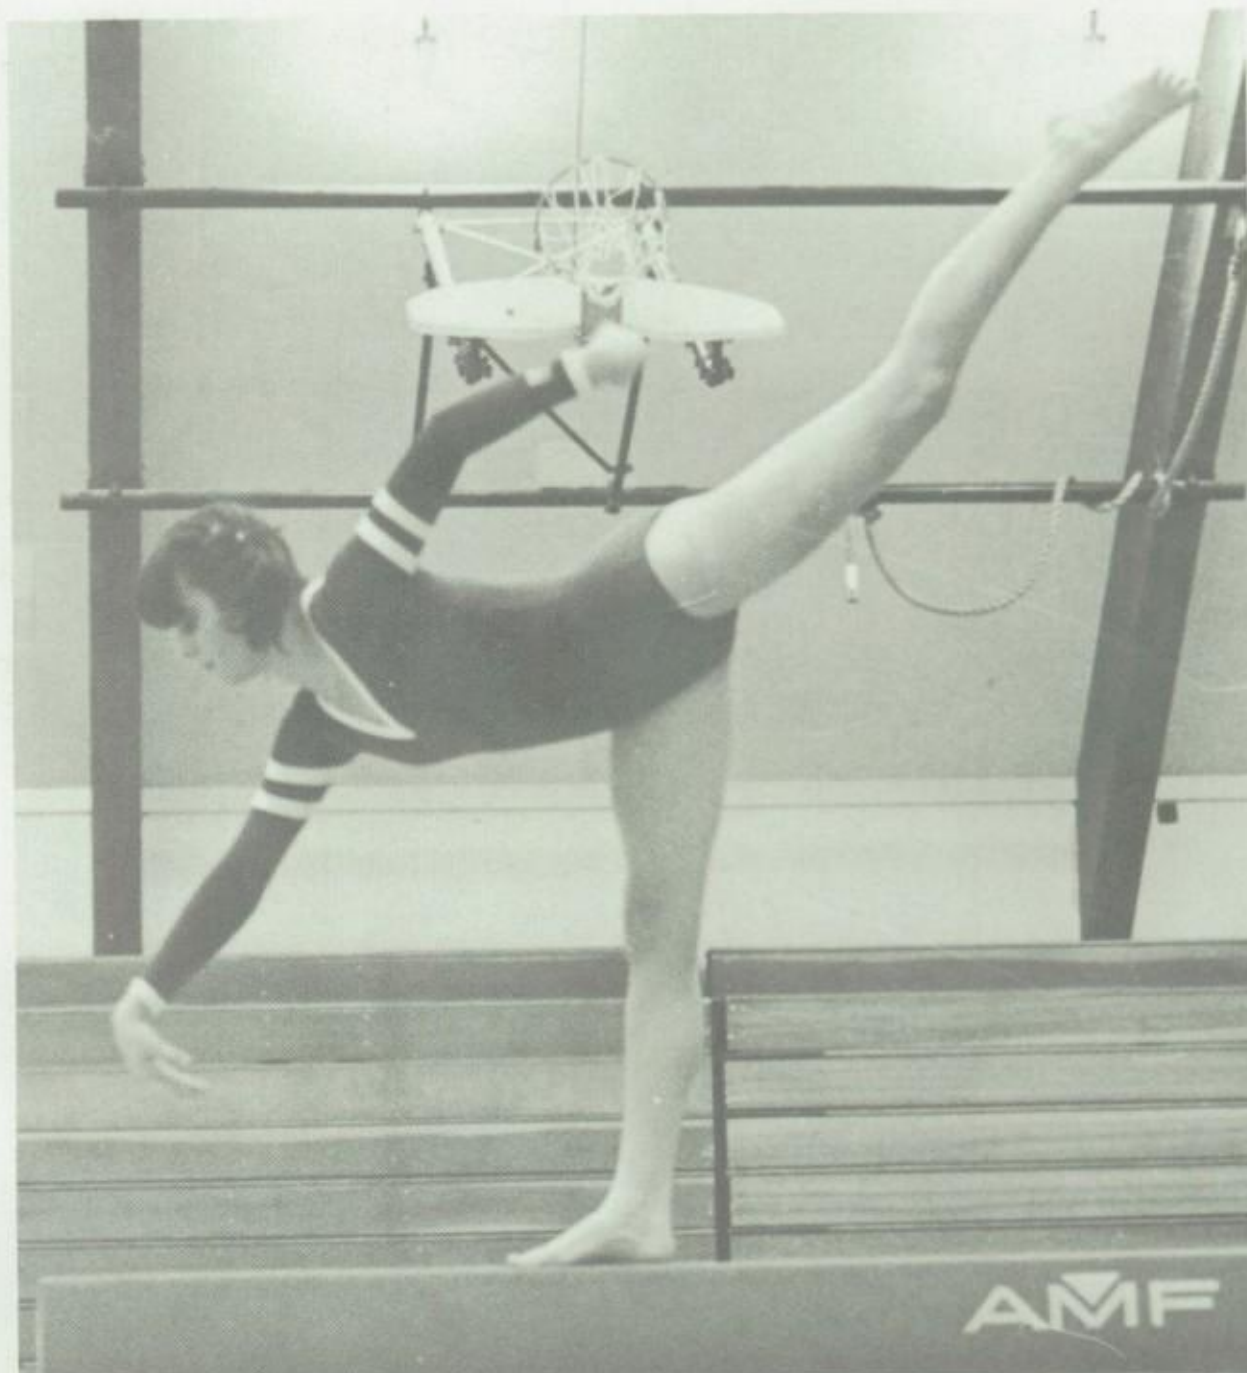

Four sophomores joined the team this year. These girls came to the team hoping to be able to perfect some basic moves. What they actually did was to help out the team with some very outstanding efforts when the others were Season Record

BOYS' SWIMMING

Under the instruction of new coach Freeman Glover, the boys' swim team did very well in the tough South Puget Sound League, compiling a final season record of five wins and six losses. The team was led by Robb Powers and Rob Phelan. These two seniors were outstanding throughout the season and showed extreme dedication by working out throughout the year in order to get ready for the season. Junior Mark Swanlund also had a very good year.

Dedication is a key factor in the success of a swimmer. The guys practiced twice a day, both before and after school. It's this kind of dedication that makes a state class swimmer.

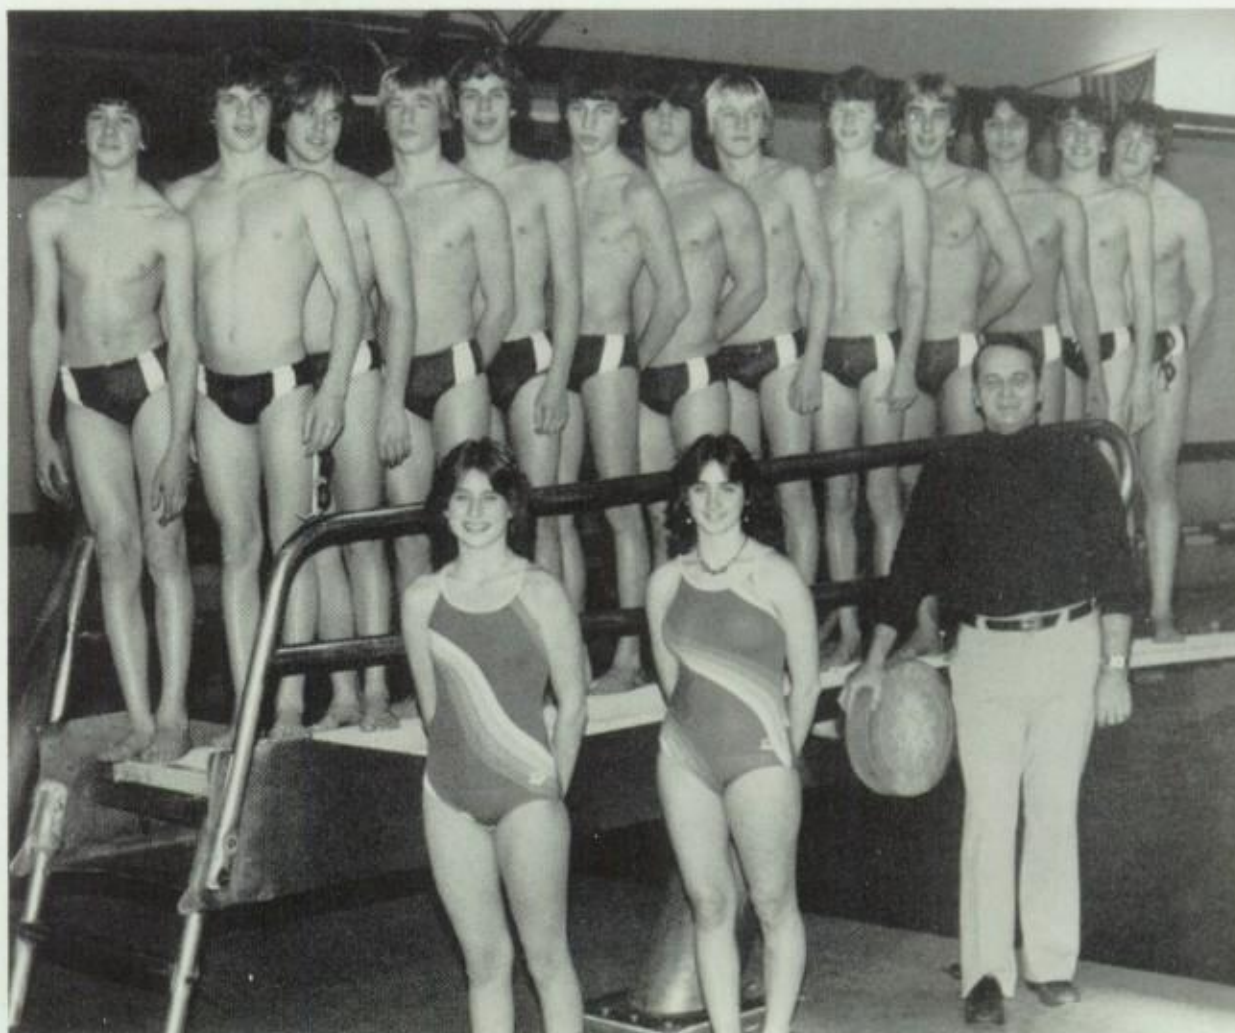

Powers and the 200-yard medley relay team competed in the state meet at the University of Washington. Powers placed fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke and the relay team placed ninth.

Varsity Baseball

Thanks to a lot of returning lettermen, the varsity baseball team did very well this year. Players like Vince Pettit, Steve Hess, Stu Thompson, and Brian Johanneck used their experience to do an outstanding job.

Some of the early problems for the Sparts were the positions of pitcher and catcher. Coach Monasmith knew he could depend on the talent of junior Wayne Egbert, but the rules wouldn't allow him to pitch all of the time. So junior Keith Muich and sophomore Bob March came on to give some fine performances of their own.

The position of catcher was filled early by senior Charlie Jensen. Opposing teams found it tough to steal on Jensen; he and second baseman Steve Fox made an outstanding effort at stopping the stolen base.

Junior Varsity Baseball

Due to a tough fifteen game schedule and lack of preparation time, the junior varsity baseball team didn't fare too well in South Puget Sound League play. As of the end of the first three games, Coach Tim Thomsen still hadn't decided on a starting line up. A big reason for this was because so many of his players could play more than one position.

One of these players was sophomore Dave Berg. During the season, he played first and third bases, left and right fields, and also pitched a little. Another strong player was center fielder and team captain Russ Stuefloten. In the early part of the season, Stuefloten hit over .500. Junior Dave Turnbull and sophomore Mark Johanneck turned in some very impressive plays at second and third bases for the Sparts.

Coach Thomsen remarked, "For us to be really good, we have to improve on our fielding and situation play, but everyone is working hard and we're making real progress."

Softball

The softball team this year had many returning players who were out to improve their skills. Mr. Rick Nelson, the varsity coach, said that the team's goal was to make the playoffs. Although this was only Coach Nelson's second year of coaching softball, he was the varsity baseball coach at the junior high for ten years prior to his move to the high school last year.

The team was made up primarily of juniors, but also sported three returning seniors. Kim Garl, Lori Abrahamson, and Kim Harvey have all lettered in softball at least once before. These seniors added maturity and leadership to an otherwise young team.

Track

Due to a small turnout the track team didn't do as well as a team as they might have otherwise. The Sparts had a tough time because there were only one or two people for each event. However, some individuals had a very good season. Senior John Hurtin was the most dominant of these, as he competed in the state meet for the second time.

The girls were paced by sprinter Tracy Denn and distance runner Dianna Townsend. Both were seniors and had been involved in track for three years.

Other outstanding performers for Coach Craig Fouhy were sprinters Stacey Miller, Jamie Hammond, and Jerry Herbst. With more participation, these people could have helped the team win more meets.

Boys' Tennis

The 1981 boys' tennis team had a very experienced tennis coach. Coach Sharon Lovinger has taught co-ed tennis for ten years and she taught girls' tennis this year. She said that since tennis is an individual sport most of the goals that were set were also individual. With seven people on varsity and three people on junior varsity, this team was very small. There were only three seniors on the team. Mike Norton has been on the Sumner High School tennis team for three years; Mark Murray and Todd Passe were first year players trying this sport on a team basis. There were two juniors on the team, Elliot Swaney and John Parker, both second year players. The majority of the team were sophomores who were very eager to learn and play tennis.

Executive Council

The primary objective of the 1981 Executive Council was to raise funds for the depleted ASB budget. From selling candy to wrapping Christmas presents at the Fred Meyer Shopping Center, the 36 members of the council were kept busy. Unfortunately, in spite of all their efforts, the student body was still in the red at the end of the year.

The ASB members did not restrict their energies to fundraising, however; they also planned many activities for the enjoyment of the student body. Pep Week, assemblies, Homecoming activities, dances—all were successful and attendance was high. The group concluded the year by conducting elections and planning the annual senior trip.

1. Betty Hensler and Dan Murphy take their jobs representing the sophomore class very seriously.
2. Jeff Ausbun thoughtfully sucks a lollipop while Tim Hannus votes on the issues at hand.
3. The annual staff photographer went unnoticed except by Mike Norton, senior class president.

Cheerleaders

"Hi! My name's Elaine, Nickname's 'Cocaine.'
And after the game,
I go insane!"

Almost every girl at some point in her life dreams of becoming a cheerleader. Eight of the girls whose dreams this year became reality introduced themselves in rhyme to the student body at the first pep assembly of the year in September, much to the enjoyment of those in attendance.

The varsity cheerleaders along with the junior varsity and wrestling squads spent two days a week all summer practicing group and special dancing cheers. Their perseverance paid off; they returned from a week-long summer workshop in Ellensburg with the spirit pendant, six superior awards, and four outstanding awards. All of the athletic teams greatly appreciated their encouragement and support.

Honor Society

Thanks to the efforts of faculty members Douglas Mandt and Susann LaHmon, and of interested students, the Sumner High School Honor Society has been re-born. The club began to re-organize last spring, and the first full year of operation since the early seventies saw it become the largest organized club at Sumner High.

Although the list of candidates for membership is made up of students with a minimum GPA of 3.25, membership in the Honor Society is not based solely on high grades. A student is not invited to join unless he receives a minimum score from teachers who rate the candidates on leadership, character, and service. Members must maintain their GPA's, participate in club activities, and continue to demonstrate good character and leadership to remain members in good standing.

On October 21 an induction ceremony was held for all candidates and their families. To begin the festivities, introductions of the club officers and of the three foreign exchange students (special members of the club) were made by Mrs. LaHmon. This was followed by entertainment provided by the music department and guest speaker Marv Harshman. The highlight of the evening was the recitation of the Honor Society pledge and the induction of the 94 new members.

The first year of activity was an eventful one for the club. Officers met every Wednesday morning before school and throughout the year the members met during break to discuss club matters. Every third Thursday of the month they held a bake sale to raise money. Another successful fund-raising event was held in December when tickets were raffled off for the Sammy Hagar concert. Darren Swan and Jean Yanda were the lucky winners. Night meetings featured swimming parties with clubs from other schools, pizza parties, and ice cream feeds. As a service to the community, the club conducted a food drive at Christmas in cooperation with the Active 20/30 Club. They were able to provide enough food for all of the baskets contributed by the Active 20/30's plus enough for a substantial donation to the food bank. With such a full year, the members have truly set a precedent for years to come.

Pep Club

Seldom a week went by that the halls and lockers of Sumner High were not decorated with posters and locker favors. The most remarkable aspect of all this is that the work was done through the diligent efforts of only a handful of active Pep Club members. President Nancy Andrews and the other girls not only did a lot to keep morale high, but they also increased the financial status of the club through many fund-raising activities.

Drama Club

Drama Club gives its members many opportunities to express their creativity. Like all other clubs, however, this group faced the problem of financing their endeavors. The first dance of the year at Halloween was put on by the Drama Club members as a fund-raising activity and was one of the best dances of the year. Another money raising project more in line with the special talents of this group was called "Bring in the Clowns." Club members would dress up as clowns and for a fee would entertain at birthday parties, singing and playing games with the children.

Members also participated in the KTAC Haunted House in Tacoma. They won the first place award for having the best display—a mad surgeon operating on a victim whose insides were graphically displayed and mutilated. There was also a floating cauliflower "brain" in the background. This along with parts in the two plays and the presentation of a cabaret made for a full year for the members.

Fall Play

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" is a comedy which takes place in an old hotel which is closed for the winter. The plot of this mystery-farce revolves around an author's attempt to write a novel in 24 hours. With the arrival of a crooked politician, a hermit, and a newspaper reporter, the plot takes a confusing twist leading to a bizarre conclusion. Those who were able to attend the play enjoyed it very much.

Students who worked on the play felt that production alone was just as much fun as performing the play itself. Adding special effects or extra scenes during rehearsals carried over into the performance and made the Sumner presentation of the play unique. Of course, as in all dramatic events, mistakes were made, such as an actor saying a wrong line which suddenly threw the cast from the first act to the second or a telephone not ringing on cue, but it all added to the memories of those who worked so hard for success.

Chess Club

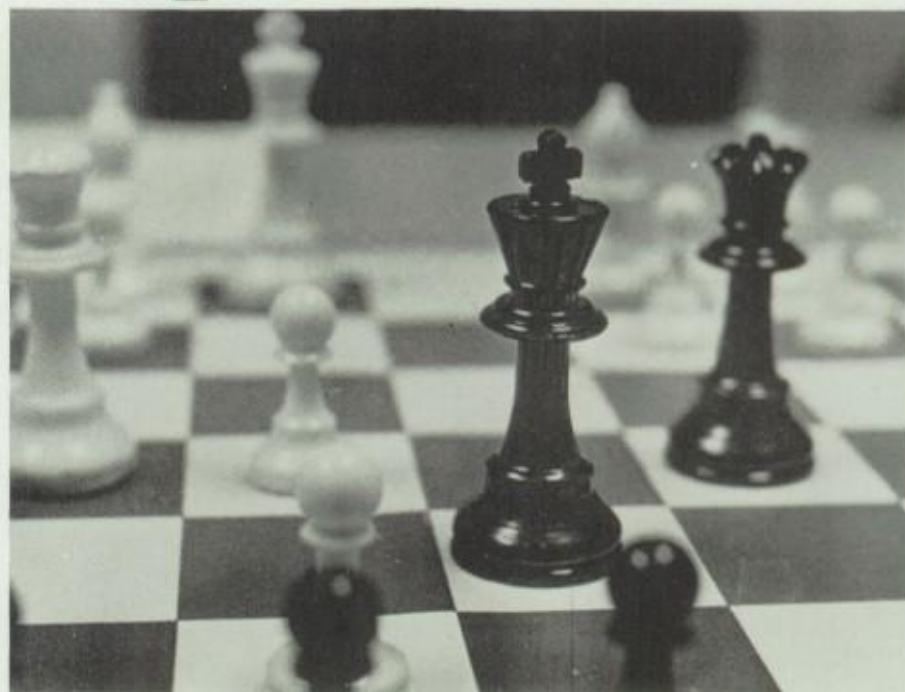

In high school, most of the opportunities for team competition center around athletics. There is one team, however, that is intellectually rather than physically strenuous. The Sumner High Chess Team met the intellectual challenge of the game. They practiced often, both against each other and against a computerized game board. After every match they went over all the moves they had made and discussed how they could improve their games. And although there were only five players who consistently worked the boards, several others hung around the library and learned how to play even though they didn't compete. No cheerleaders encouraged the team as they faced their opponents, but the members enjoyed the competition and worked hard to improve.

Journalism

Members of the "Spartlight" newspaper staff are responsible for keeping the student body of Sumner High School informed on all school related news of the past, present, and future. Co-editors Sherry Mix and Lori Abrahamson faced an unusual challenge in fulfilling this responsibility, for after a quick course on press rules and newspaper writing, advisor Mrs. Vicki Van Buren left on a pregnancy leave. Because the substitute had no background in journalism, Sherry and Lori were forced to take charge. They ran into many difficulties, such as broken-down presses, and had to learn how to deal with fellow students as "teachers," but after a couple missed deadlines, they and the staff managed to work together to distribute a school newspaper full of interesting information and creativity.

Foreign Language Clubs

"Besame," "Es macht spass," and "C'est la vie" were among several sounds heard from the language hall during fifth period. The Spanish, French, and German clubs came together and shared the cultures that they had learned over the past three years. The German club held a special "October Festival" like the one that is usually celebrated by Germans everywhere. The Spanish club members wrote eulogies to their favorite teachers on the "Day of the Dead," a Spanish holiday that is similar to our Halloween. At Christmas, each club revealed the traditions of its studied country by coming together in song and joining together for the different types of Christmas cuisine. To wrap things up in the spring, the French club held a Mardi Gras where they celebrated the day before Good Friday by joyous eating.

Exchange Students

The opportunity to experience life in America brought Yomiko Tanaka from Japan and Kees van der Velde from Holland to Sumner High. Yomiko came here on a Rotary program after having studied English for three years. During her stay she changed host families three times, gaining a greater understanding of the American family. Kees came with the Youth for Understanding program and had five years of English before arriving here August 7. Both Kees and Yomiko had to become accustomed to a new way of life. The two agreed that there were a lot of differences in the cultures and languages of our country and theirs. According to Kees, "It takes time to get used to some things, but it's a great experience."

Future Farmers of America

FFA is one of the largest and most organized clubs at Sumner High School. Members are kept busy year round at county fairs, showing their animals and competing in other farm-related events. The group also has a logging team which competes against other schools. Mr. Greg Pile has now been the advisor of FFA for three years. This gives the club an advantage because all members have been taught in the same way.

The club and its members have received much recognition. Last fall at the Western Washington State Fair their booth display won the Grand Champion Award in Education. Jim Jamerson and Gail Komoto also received a Grand Champion Award in Agricultural Mechanics for a trailer they made.

The highest achievement possible for club members is the attainment of the State Farming Degree. Since 1941, only four Sumner students have qualified. This year alone seven members qualified. All the members deserve commendation for their efforts and success.

Future Homemakers of America

Each year the girls of FHA choose a theme to develop throughout the year. President Dianna Olson and the members of the club decided to spend the year trying to bring families closer together. Among other things, they were responsible for the Christmas tree that was raised in Valley Terrace Nursing Home. "The tree and the efforts of the girls made the season a little brighter for the residence," said Nancy Rozell, senior and employee of Valley Terrace. Club members also set up shop at Taylor's Furniture Store in Sumner where they passed out candy canes and took pictures of the children and their families.

The girls also were responsible for the brunch served to the Daffodil Princess candidates and the judges in October. Working together on events like this and on fund-raising activities such as making and selling cookies gave the girls experience, togetherness, and a good time.

Vocational-Industrial Clubs of America

VICA is a club for students taking vocational classes such as auto shop, graphics, woodshop, and drafting. Members participate in many activities, community service projects, and competitions. The Sumner High VICA chapter hosted the competition this year for all the clubs in Western Washington. VICA was also successful in promoting school spirit and enthusiasm by hosting the third annual VICA "car bash" and by selling Spartan mugs.

VICA is noted for its help to the community. Members fix cars for senior citizens free of charge and print the "Valley Terrace News," a paper at the Valley Terrace Rest Home. During National Vocational Week they had an information booth set up in the Tacoma Mall where people could learn more of what VICA is all about.

Future Business Leaders of America

One of the big events for FBLA every year is the state leadership conference in Seattle. At this conference, the students compete in different areas such as typing, shorthand, and business machines. They also have sessions where participants can learn more about different areas of interest, for example, a small business, investments, and credit.

To raise money to attend this conference, and to have other fun activities, FBLA members sold candy canes, held bake sales, and had a car wash. Linda Heath, president, and the other officers organized the fund raisers and planned other fun activities.

Distributive Education Classes of America

The main purpose of DECA is to help the members better understand the business world. DECA is actually divided into two groups: Co-op DECA consisting of junior and senior distributive education students and Prep DECA consisting of marketing students. Both clubs worked on several projects throughout the year. One group put together an interest questionnaire that was distributed in the junior and senior high schools. It was hoped that the results of the survey would attract businesses to the Sumner area.

DECA was also given charge of the student store. Students benefited from this change of management because the DECA members were able to provide more items for sale. The club members involved also gained valuable experience.

Key Club

Service to the school and the community is the main objective of Key Club. The four active members of the club spent the year trying to get the club back on its feet, setting up guidelines, and trying to find new members. One special event designed partly to draw attention to the club was the induction ceremony featuring State Senator Mark Gespard as speaker. The club is sponsored by the Daffodil Valley Kiwanis Club.

Band

Year after year the hallways of the gym resound with the sounds of the Sumner High School Concert Band practicing and practicing and practicing. This dedication to perfection has led to a tradition of excellence, and band performances have awed audiences not only in Sumner, but throughout the state. At Central Washington University Band Day in Ellensburg, the band took second in the AAA division competition. Members of the band felt they could have placed first if they had had a drill team.

The band also traveled to Victoria for a concert and while there performed at high schools in the surrounding community. Money for this trip was raised through a candle sale, the annual spaghetti dinner, and the selling of certificates for discounted portraits at T.J.'s Studio in Auburn.

Jazz Ensemble

It happened every day sixth period in the band room. Jazz ensemble members came together to practice their unique style of music: solid brass backed up by piano, drums, and bass guitar. Their performances at assemblies, concerts, and special events were greatly admired and appreciated.

Seniors Don Keenan on bass and Eric Ketner on trumpet were especially dedicated to their music. They both were enrolled in concert choir, vocal ensemble, and concert band, as well as in jazz ensemble. They worked on perfecting their music every night after school anywhere from a half hour to an hour and then put in an hour of private practice at home. They also had the opportunity to share their music on the radio in January.

All the members of the ensemble worked very hard to achieve a place in the group. They can be respected for the quality of their music and for the time and devotion they gave to the effort.

1. Don Keenan on bass, Harold Ring on keyboards, and Joe Beaty on drums make an unbeatable combination.
2. Erik Ketner solos on the trumpet.

Vocal Ensemble

Members of the Vocal Ensemble worked hard and began the year by performing at Open House. Their performance was highly enjoyable and parents and teachers who attended were impressed. The group performed quite often at local businesses and at special events. Their presentation at the Christmas Concert was a special treat for the student body.

Mr. Robert Swanson is largely responsible for the growing talents of the vocal ensemble. He felt that the students were enjoyable to work with and that they also enjoyed the experience.

There is no need to audition for this group; all that is needed is an interest in music. The Mixed Chorus is made up primarily of sophomores who want to learn about music. Concert Choir

Concert Choir is known throughout the Northwest as a group with a never-ending supply of talent. Wherever they go, their talents are appreciated. They perform for children, the elderly, and students.

The group gave about five concerts during the year. The concerts included the pops concert which was a huge success. Choir members also participated in the South Puget Sound League Vocal Solo Contest at Decatur High School. Three of the members—Ben Gregg, Gretchen Highland, and Sherry Mix—were chosen to participate in the All Northwest Choir. They were selected on the basis of taped auditions.

The choir members made over a thousand dollars selling fruitcake and used the proceeds to finance a trip to Fort Warden at the end of the year. The group made stops along the way performing at various high schools. They ended the year with a performance for the graduating class of 1981 at Baccalaureate.

Open House

The fourth annual Open House was held in the High School cafeteria on October 15. Although the event was held earlier than usual, and was separate from Homecoming, attendance remained high. After a pleasant dinner and entertainment provided by the music department, parents moved to the classrooms to meet with the teachers, following the daily schedules of their sons and daughters. "This year's Open House was a great success," said Mrs. Oswald. "There were a lot of parents and that made the evening a special one."

Homecoming

Homecoming 1980 was a celebration unsurpassed in recent years. The daily class competitions, the Friday morning skits and evening game, and the Saturday night dance were all highly successful functions and a credit both to the Executive Council who organized and executed the week's activities and to the students who participated in them. It was a week to remember.

As in years past, enthusiasm for Homecoming was generated by daily meetings of the student body for class competitions, and even after the scheduling was changed to accommodate the activities during break instead of during a required assembly period, attendance remained high.

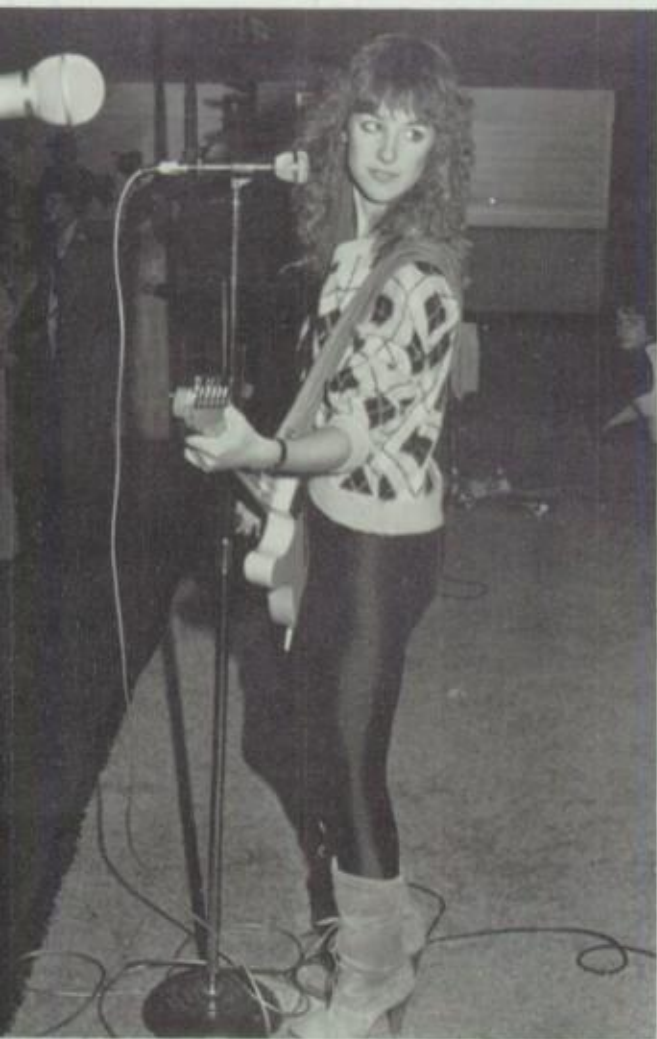

The traditional tricycle race on Monday began the festivities which continued on Tuesday with a new event—the ten by ten foot "squeeze." The sophomore class with 99 crammed bodies proved they could fit more students into the limited space than the junior class with 98 and the senior class with 89. On Wednesday there was a banana race, another new event, and on Thursday the sophomores and juniors pushed V.W.'s around the nearly flooded track. (The senior class was disqualified because no one was willing to push the V.W. through the mud!)

The theme for the week, "Rock-n-Roll Fantasy," from a song by the group Bad Company, was clearly evident in Friday morning's skits. The sophomores led things off with a story about the members of an incompetent rock group who dream of fame and fortune. Lead singer Harold Ring with the members of his band, Scott Abercrombie, Dan Chaplik, and Eric Stobie, traveled to Fantasy Island where Mr. Roarke (Dan Murphy) and Tattoo (Jim Peters) met them and made their dream come true.

The juniors were next on stage with a group of football players whose performance in the big game was jeopardized when quarterback Ralph Phillips came down with a severe case of "Disco Fever." He, too, traveled to Fantasy Island where Roarke (Todd Lawson) and Tatroo (Tim Hannus) knocked the disco out of him and sent him back just in time for the game. The slow motion special effects of the football players in the final scenes of the skit left a lasting impression.

The seniors wrapped up the show with a take-off on the popular "Leave It To Beaver-1980" radio show highlighted by the untimely and bloody demise of Scott Eklund. The skit ended with a rock concert with "musicians" Doug Cuddie, Jim Mosses, Todd Pasquier, John Hope, and John Hurtin singing and playing to the music of AC/DC.

Friday night when the Sparts hit the field for the Homecoming game it was only the second time all season they had played on home turf. But the wait was worth it and playing on the newly remodeled field coupled with the excitement of being on home ground assisted the Spartans to their overwhelming victory over Decatur with a final score of 28-0. The week came to an end with the dance where students were entertained by the group "Legs." Approximately 100 couples attended and everyone felt it was a successful conclusion to the week.

Extraordinary Entertainment Extravaganza

The music department's annual talent show is always an opportunity for Sumner students to show-off their abilities. This year's first place winner was senior student and pianist, Jan Davis, who played "Intermezzo in E^b Minor." Senior Val Stril on French horn and junior Patti Dahl, vocalist, received the second and third place awards.

Mardi Gras

A new festival has been added to the list of annual Sumner special events. The members of the foreign language department put on a Mardi Gras for over 500 faculty, students, parents, and community members who attended the evening celebration. Songs, skits, games, and refreshments combined to make an enjoyable evening for all who attended.

Daffodil Queen Cindy Kovalenko

For the first time since Kay Bryson was crowned queen of the 1965 Daffodil Festival, a student from Sumner High School was chosen for this high honor. Senior Cindy Kovalenko's first recognition came in being chosen as Sumner's princess from among the six lovely candidates. Then on February 23 at a special ceremony at the Tacoma Bicentennial Pavilion, Cindy was named queen after competition with eighteen other princesses.

As queen, Cindy's activities ranged from the queen's luncheon to the Grand Floral Street Parade. Queen Cindy said, "Becoming princess was a dream come true for me, but representing the festival as Daffodil Queen was an honor that I'd never dreamed would be my own." Cindy will represent the community for the entire year of her reign.

Queen Cindy Kovalenko happily shares her shining success with her brother, Pete, as he escorts her to the throne at the school assembly which was held in her honor.

Foreign Language

Foreign Language teachers experienced an exciting year in teaching their foreign language students. One junior said he really enjoyed Mrs. Pope's French class with the reading of several French short stories and dialogues. Mrs. Pope's third year French students went to a particular camp where only French could be spoken!

Mrs. Nichols has spent a few years in Germany in the past, so she was excited to share in the joy with her four German students who spent the summer in Germany. Laurie Hallock said that going to Germany really extended her vocabulary and gave her an additional appreciation for the classroom events.

The Spanish classes worked hard in filming dialogues and skits on video tape. This was the first year that they had done this. One sophomore student said that it was great to get to watch himself on video acting out a skit in Spanish! Dr. Rogland's class went out to dinner where they enjoyed the atmosphere of Latin American conversation and dining at a Mexican Restaurant.

Physical Education

The Physical Education department geared its curriculum this year in a way that was exciting as well as beneficial to the physical well being of the students. The program was broken down into thirteen individual areas, such as handball, conditioning, and weight lifting, that allowed the teachers to go more in-depth with the task and provide additional assistance and guidance.

Students seemed to enjoy it this way, even though it was the first year that it had been done. P.E. teacher Dar Monasmith said that each subject took the student through the understanding and mechanics of the task and gave them a chance to apply their techniques in class.

Business

Mr. Wambold, head of the business department, said that the business classes proved to be a big success for students interested in business careers. The department set up a new simulated office in room five to give the students the actual feel of working in an office setting. In addition, the department obtained three new correctable typewriters and a word processor which enables the students to see what they have typed and correct any mistakes before it is typed in final form by the computer. This helped acquaint the students with modern office equipment.

There was also a new marketing class added to teach students the skills required in the world of marketing. Mr. Wambold added that the classes were not only a valuable asset for the students interested in business careers, but also for those who wanted to take some fun, educational, and exciting classes.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts department taught students many beneficial skills this year. The Woodshop class learned carpentry, furniture design and finishing procedures this year, while Mr. King's drafting class learned everything from the basic house plan to the more sophisticated design. The Auto Mechanics class was donated a van by Sunset Chevrolet. The van was slightly damaged, but the students repaired it, under supervision of Mr. Leviton.

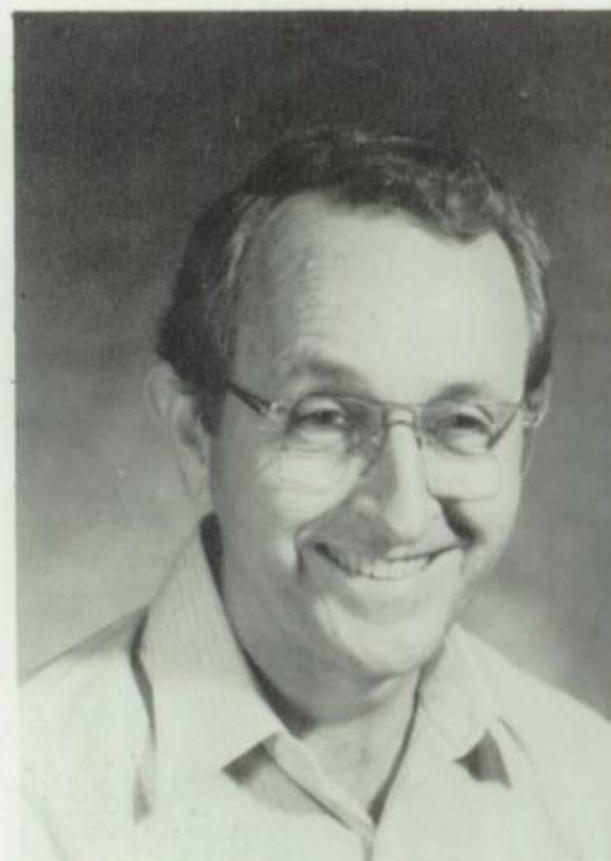

Mr. LaVerdiere was excited about his print shop because his students printed up all the school's drama programs, sports programs, and newspapers. He said that this was great experience for the students because it helped them to learn the method of printing, as well as acquainted them with the equipment. Students from the agriculture class found the year exciting as they spent much of their own classtime in the agriculture shop when their animals were sick or in delivery. Some animals even visited academic classrooms with the teacher's permission.

Social Studies

The Social Studies department had an interesting year. There were nine different courses offered to students and many of them were very popular. Mr. Hart's Psychology II classes went on field trips to several different mental health facilities. There they observed patients which helped them grasp more clearly characteristics of human behavior that they had studied in class. The You and the Law classes had an exciting year. Mr. Blain took all of his students to the County-City Building where they watched an actual court trial. After returning to the school, the students acted out their own court trial in their classroom.

Sumner High School, for the majority of the year, lost the services of a valuable and dedicated teacher. Here, in the words of Mr. Vernon Hart, the Spartan Annual and students of Sumner High School give honor to Mr. John Blaine:

Mr. John Blaine

"Mr. Blaine gave his complete heart and soul to the students while he was here. John is a dedicated individual and his time was the student's time both in and out of the classroom. John gave not only educational knowledge to students, but he set an example of leadership for them to follow. I feel that Mr. Blaine is a true example of human mankind; any student or teacher can be proud to say, 'I know Mr. Blaine.'

"I feel that no one item led Mr. Blaine to his leave of absence. It was not the students, as has been stated; it was not the work. Mr. Blaine reached a point known in the teaching profession as 'burned-out.' He just felt he reached a point that he had nothing more to offer for the mental satisfaction he was getting in return. All of us at Sumner wish John the best of luck and I'm sure we'll see him back in the education system soon. Why? Because true love and happiness will never fail, and this is what Mr. Blaine had with students and education."

Mr. Vernon C. Hart

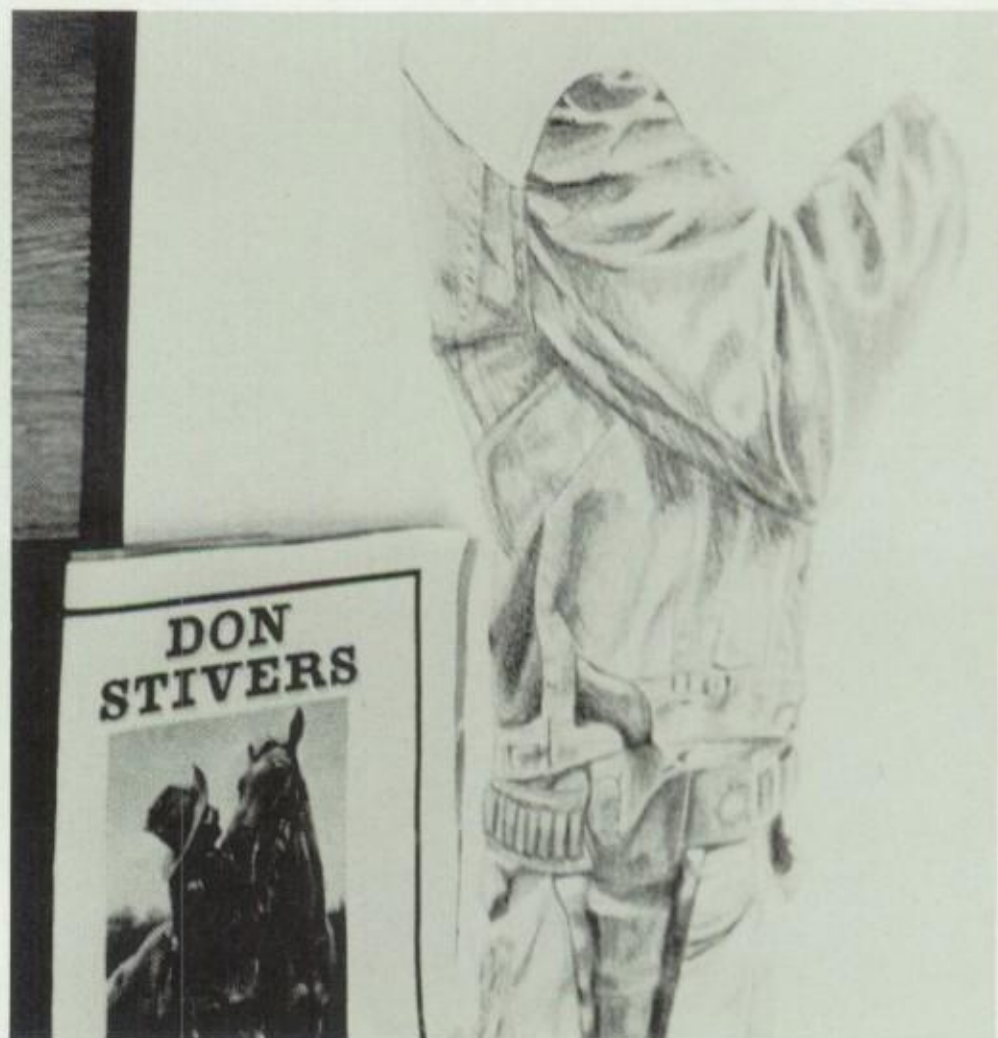

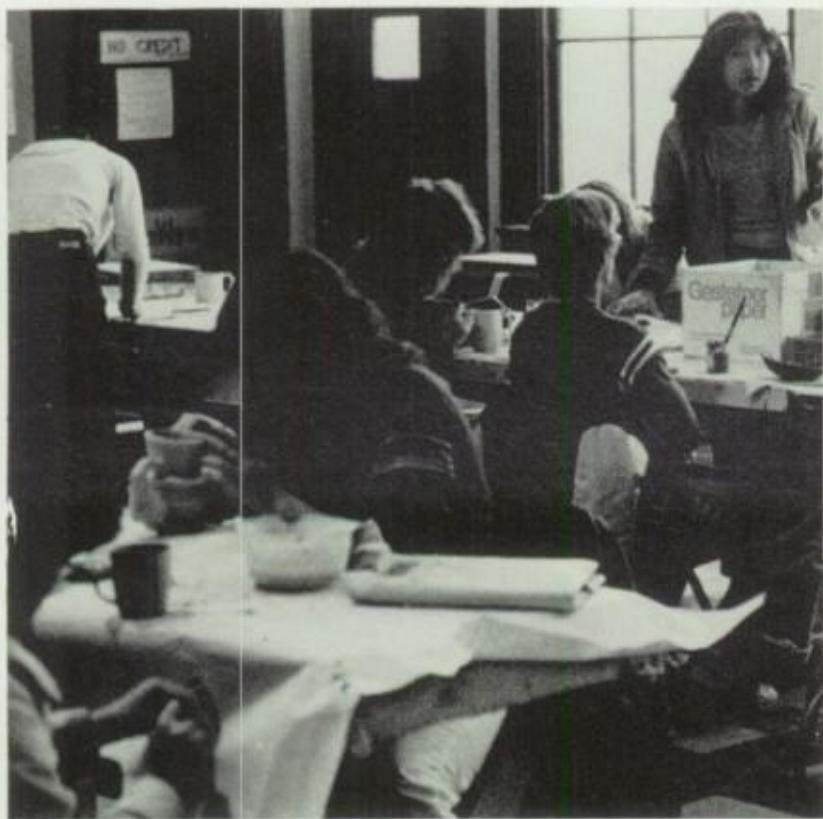

Art

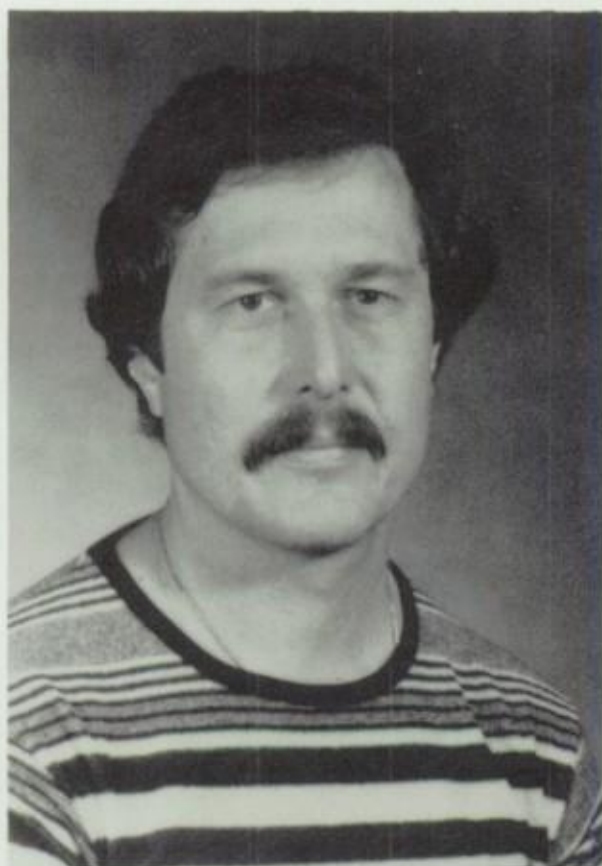

The Art department instructors, Mr. Koonce and Mr. Anderson, devoted their time to encouraging their students and providing a means of developing and enhancing their creativity. Mr. Koonce taught his beginning art class the fundamentals of arbitrary lines and gradual shading. The only tools required of the students were a pencil and the will to imagine!

Mr. Anderson said he felt his students were successful this year. Mark Duncan, through the coaching of Mr. Anderson, mastered the use of various mediums. Another student, Doug Palmer, took second place in the Orting Art Show as a sophomore, and the work he did as a senior, surpassed even that. There were several other outstanding artists: Rob Phelan, with his incredible realism; Anna Smith, with her great use of color; and Ron Lamberton, who in Mr. Anderson's words, is a "master at moving lead around."

Music

Harmonious sounds were heard from the music department this year as the music students spent their class time preparing for concerts and performances.

One of the highlights of the year happened in December when Mr. Swanson's concert choir videotaped a 30 minute television show that was shown to viewers on Channel 10 on Christmas Day. One Senior said that the television experience manifested to him the actual feeling of working under pressure. The vocal ensemble performed at several school events this year including the Daffodil Coronation and the Honor Society Induction Ceremony. One parent was eager to add that she thought the music greatly contributed to the quality of each of these gatherings.

Steve Montague, band instructor, said that he was really proud of his band students and the accomplishments made by each of them. They played in several concerts and contests, and Erik Ketner, band president, astounded the community with his trumpet solos. At a competition at Central Washington State College, Sumner High School Band won second place out of over twenty participating bands!

English

The English department had an interesting year with the addition of two new classes: Media Now, which taught the fundamentals of film production and video taping, and Advanced English, which was offered to sophomores and juniors for the first time.

Sophomore English teacher Karyl Monaco teamed up with Mr. Larry Blain, computer teacher, and together they wrote a grant proposal which resulted in an award of $6,000 worth of computer equipment which Miss Monaco used to help teach writing in her English fundamentals classes. Junior English classes went to Seattle and saw a theatrical production of To Kill a Mockingbird, to supplement their reading of the novel.

Math and Science

"Students who are willing to invest extra time and effort in our advanced math and science courses find it increases their career options tremendously," said Marilouise Peterson, guidance counselor. The Math and Science department, under the direction of chairperson Doug Mandt has, indeed, spent many classroom hours this year providing an in-depth study of mathematics and science. The effort was helped by the addition of two new teachers this year: Mrs. Judy Hill, math, and Mr. Wayne Bell, biology.

One of the highlights of the biology class occurred when they were studying aerobic health; all the students went over to the pool and weighed their actual body fat while immersed in the water. Another interesting event was Dr. Rogland's trip to the Seattle Center Planetarium with his physics classes during the spring.

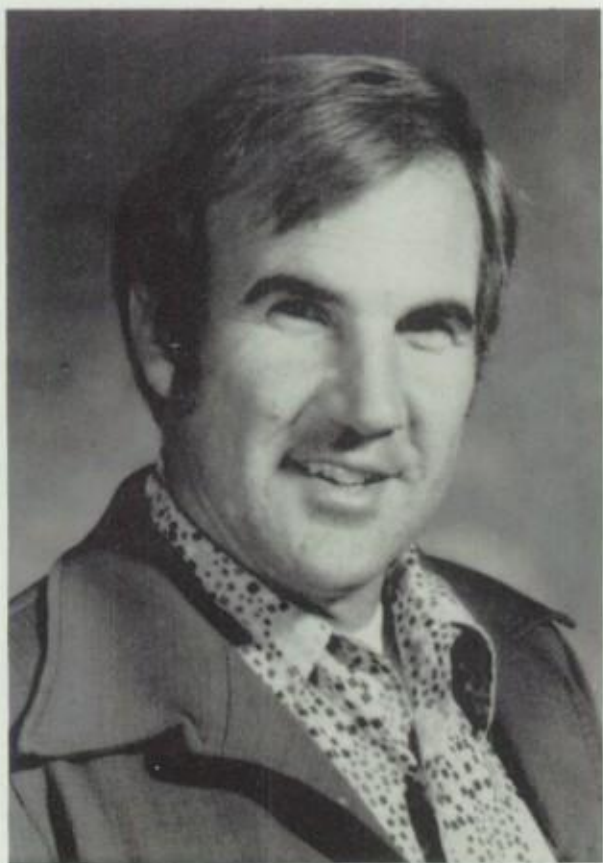

A new calculus program was introduced under the supervision of Mr. Rawley. The students worked independently through a correspondence course which, upon completion, granted them college credit.

Home Economics

Hearing the sounds of pre-school children was not very unusual this year down by the Home Ec department. The students had the youngsters to come in for their unit on child care and they entertained the children so they could observe and record their behavior patterns.

As a test of their sewing skills, the students had to make pillows and bags. They also ate breakfast many mornings in class. These things helped to prepare the students for life as a bachelor or bachelorette, whatever the case may be!

Cindy,

So bad your moving,
I was just getting to know you.
Especially after we arranged to flower decorations together.
Personally I think we did a great job on the amount of flowers we had. I hope you have an excellent future in Arizona, at least you'll know what the sun is. Stay sweet and maybe I will see you around sometime.

Love,

Sue Simmons and Dougall Agan

Dougall Agan and Sue Simmons were honored by their peers with the bestowment of the Layhue Achievement Award. Each worked hard to achieve their excellence. Dougall earned letters in football, basketball, and track. He was selected as a delegate to Boys' State and was selected for the Pierce County Scholar Athlete award. With all of this, he still found time to participate in Vocal Ensemble.

Sue worked equally as hard. She was involved in tennis and served as ASB corresponding secretary and FBLA secretary. She was also chosen to represent the U.S. Girl Scouts during a trip to Mexico.

Both Sue and Dougall found time for homework and sustained 3.7 g.p.a.'s. Sue plans to major in business management at Central Washington University and Dougall hopes to study business at Stanford University.

Respect for Authority

Shannon Blanus and Matt Peterson

Matt Peterson and Shannon Blanus seemed to lift the spirits of all those who came into contact with them. The senior class selected these two as recipients of the Mitchell Personality Award.

Shannon played tennis and softball along with three years of basketball—two of them at the varsity level. Shannon was no tomboy, though, as she was also a 1981 Daffodil Princess candidate. She also served as ASB recording secretary.

Matt added his physical skills to the varsity basketball team and his vocal talents to the Sumner High Concert Choir. Matt plans to pursue some type of career involving basketball at the University of Washington. Shannon would like to go to the University of Puget Sound and major in physical therapy.

Dollery Integrity Award

Honesty and Sincerity with Self
And Others

Sandy Ewaskow and Mike Monosmith

Sandy Ewaskow and Mike Monosmith were the winners of the Florence Poole Dollery Award. This award is for personal and moral integrity. Sandy was active in many school functions and sports; she was vice president of Honor Society, a member of the Foreign Language Club, and enjoyed playing tennis on the varsity team. Even with this busy schedule she kept up a 3.7 g.p.a.

Mike was a two-year letterman in varsity basketball and he also added his talents to Executive Council by serving as vice president of the junior class. Mike plans to continue his education at a local college to study business.

Outstanding Service

Harry Barber and Gail Komoto

Selfishness was definitely not a trait of Gail Komoto and Harry Barber during their attendance at Sumner High School. Harry has given of himself in almost every way possible. Besides acting as manager for the football team, the basketball team, and the baseball team, Harry has volunteered his services for the girls' home games and wrestling. He wants to attend a voc-tech. school after graduating to study fire-fighting. He hopes to return to Sumner to be a volunteer manager.

Gail has dedicated herself by giving her services to the FFA. For three years Gail has been a member of the FFA and she has represented Sumner at all local and state fairs by showing animals and judging contests. She also is a member of the Honor Society with a 3.8 g.p.a.

Candy,
 the quietest person in math. One of the most grown up. In my point of view. I wish you a lot of luck in the future!
 and lots of good grades in math!!
 Best of luck in the future!!
 Lushu

Cindy,
 it has been a really great year and hope it stays that way. I sometimes you are a home ec. nice person so stay that really ok. I am really glad we became friends. I have a really good summer and hope to have you in some classes next year.
 Love and friend always Cheryl
 Schmidt

Hi Cindy,
 we made it through the time to play football a couple of times.
 I didn't know you're pretty quiet and I had a hard time to read your mind. I hope you have a good summer. I hope you have a great year and hope it stays that way.
 Love and friend
 always Cheryl
 Schmidt

P.S give me a call this summer if you don't have any thing going on ok 863-3794.

Cindy, I really don't know you that well but you've always been nice to me. Have a great summer.
Mike Bachmeier

Hey chick,

Seriously Mike Cindy! has been P.E. I've been great and it has been nice knowing you. You were shy but I saved his and know we talk like brother and sister. If you go up to Lake Tahoe I may see you because I plan on spending all of my time up there this summer. Well take it easy and smile. It make people wonder what you've been up to.

Stay Sweet and Best
Love Jim Kauter

P.S. come down and visit me at work.

COME DOWN

AND VISIT

ME AT WORK!!
"CINDY"!!

"I have learned this at least by my experiment: that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours."

—Henry David Thoreau

Cherie Birch, editor-in- chief

Tami Bauer, copy editor

Cindy, it was very nice meeting you in typing.
I hope you will have a great summer and get a great tan because you need one. Ha! Ha. just kidding cindy.
Well this year has really gone by fast hasn't it. You are a very nice person I hope we will have some classes together next year. Stay cool!
Your friend,
Jodie Mosby

Andy this year has been so fast.
Well believe it or not I am really glad that you came to summer and I hope you had a good year. It's too bad that you are leaving in Phoenix or wherever you go. I know that someday you will get everything we always see you what you really want. I am glad that you keep became a friend of mine. I hope we always see you again. I expect to be great maybe someday. Stay out of trouble!
I visited to you and friends. Love and friends always, wedding! P.S. You better

Cindy,

you dont know how much I appreciated you in glorious Miles class! Did you know I'm your neighbor? yep. I am. We shared something this summer, its a shame we live so close & I only see you in Algebra. Is your moving to Phoenix huh, I'll be sorry to see you leave, we need more people like you in summer. I want you to write and tell me your address for sure!
I know you will get along fine in Phoenix and just think, NO more Rain. (I might go with you)

Love ya (+ miss you too)

Jennifer McBride

Cindy,
Where in the heck am
I supposed to write. Anyway, have a great summer and don't over change. Stay the way you are because your great.
See ya later. Love, Mark

Hi Cindy,
 So, another year is over and summer is coming. It wasn't that great in typing, because I can't type very well. But I may be next year will have a fun class together.
 Well, time to go, but I'll probably see ya this summer, since you live pretty close. No more bus rides!
 See ya!
 your friend
 Always,
 Ton*

cindy, I hope you have fun driving around this summer. I can't wait until I get my license either. Maybe see you this summer. I don't all see next year

Love
 Vanessa

P.S. Have a super dupes Great Summer!

Sorry I took up so much room.

Cindy,
 I remember when I first got to know you was when we decorated the float for homecoming.
 I'm really glad we meet because you're a nice and caring person. Love Char

Cindy,
Even though I didn't know you except for on the bus, your still a special friend to me. Have a good one. Love, Janine

Cindy,
Howdy! So, now that you got your license when do you get a ride? Second period was fun and I'm really glad that I met you! I hope you have a great time in Phoenix and make sure that you write! All have fun in Florida!

Trust me!
Have fun and keep touch!!

Friends,
Heanne

Cindy, this year was a blast! I wish you weren't moving this year cause I will probably end up with some weird neighbors! At least next year we won't be sophomores anymore! Hope you have a super summer and year. If I don't ever see you again, I your senior picture okay?
see you later! Love Janine

Cindy,
I didn't know ya till this year,
& I think you a real nice kid.
Have a Rock'n summer & take it easy. see ya next year
Love

Cindy
 Well no more Biology.
 Don't that do your Did you do your plant & insect collection.
 It's been a great year in here (sort of). I have a great summer. Jeff Wilson

Dear Cindy
 I had a great time having you in English this year and for part of the time I spent in biology with what's her name Weston well have a great summer
 and I'll see you later
 Kuhn Tom

Cindy,
 I've only known you for only half a year but you've turned out to be a good friend. Well
 I hope you have as good a high school year as I have. Have a good one!

Cindy,
 Wasn't Algebra fun? I know that I was hills best student. Never caused trouble or anything like that. I'll see you next year.
 Hope you have a great summer and see ya next year.

Hi Cindy!
 At least we made it through drivers ed, have a great summer and don't hit too many pedestrians. Your friend,
 Dave

Cindy,

How's it going? It was really great this year. It went by so fast! But that's great! I loved it! I hope you had as much fun as I did. Keep in touch this summer! I'll see ya later

Cindy,

I'm glad you got in this class.
You're a great person! Sorry it took me so long to write in here.
I Hope I get you
in some classes.
Well, have a great summer, and see ya later. Love,
